
Fig. A.3.3. Representative rock types, section of south of Stone Mountain. a) Upper 2 m of Dunedin Formation fossiliferous limestone beneath the Dunedin-Besa contact. Inset shows coral on the bedding surface immediately below basal Besa River Formation strata. b) Lower several metres of tentaculitid-bearing Besa River Formation shales. c) Resistant, blocky shales to mudstones with fissile partings between 11 and 13 m. d) Splintery shale to mudstone in the upper part of the Besa River section.